Seventh-day Adventist Youth

Seventh - day Adventist Youth have proved that the old adage: "Where there is a will there is a way," is just as true in these modern times, as it was back in the pioneer days. As a nation-wide challenge to other Christian youth groups, to help keep Dr. H. M. S. Richard's "Voice of Prophecy"—radio-broadcast on the air, young people of Santa Monica, California, organized a Car-Wash, by which they raised $300 for this purpose. One man gave $100 to get his car washed. The Voice of Prophecy" 30 minute programs, NBC, Mutual, ABC and Spot, are heard each Sunday A. M. from 8:30 - 10:30 over 8 leading stations throughout Virginia; also, Mon., through Saturday daily, from 8:00 to 10:30 A. M., from Richmond, Roanoke, Stauton, Wytheville and Waynesboro.

Colored Dots

Preaching services at the St. Luke Baptist Church were well attended Sunday at 11:00. The offering was good. Music rendered by the choir, and Mrs. A. Jones at the piano was enjoyed. The pastor preached an uplifting message. The holy communion was served.

NATIONAL 4-H CLUB WEEK

and turned in excellent records.

Estelle Covington of the Lucky Clover 4-H Community Club won a wrist watch with her demonstration in the State Dairy Foods Demonstration Contest. It can be noted that Appomattox County 4-H'ers did themselves proud through awards won as a result of their good work in their individual projects.

The big highlight of the 4-H year was probably the 4-H Awards Banquet held in January. Fifty-eight 4-H members were presented 4-H medals for their project work at the Awards Banquet which was sponsored by the Farmers National Bank of Appomattox. Club members attending with their parents were fortunate to hear a talk "Never Take Less Than the Best" by Mr. Earl J. Shiflet, Executive Secretary of the Virginia Association of Electric Cooperatives.

The 4-H Club work in Appomattox County will continue to grow with assistance of those parents and friends who have given of their time to serve as project and organizational leaders in cooperation with the Extension Agents.

KNOW THE WEATHER

By E. H. Sims

Recent tornadoes in the middle section of the United States surprised many and caught people unprepared. Are these storms "out of season" in mid- winter?

Yes, to a certain extent, tornadoes are "out of season" in mid-winter. They are not extremely rare, however, for they can occur at any time during the year.

Tornadoes occur most frequently in turbulent and cnanging air masses, when heavier air (possibly moist) becomes inverted suspended above lighter air.

Eventually the heavier air (above) is certain to break through and this may produce the awful power of huge small funnel storms.

Should Seed Pastures At Once

Eastern Virginia farmers don't have much longer they should have their pastures seeded by March 15. In northern Piedmont and western Virginia, seeding dates are from March 1 until April 15. In middle and southern Piedmont, seeding should be done by the end of this month.

Shoulders says to seed 1 to 2 pounds of certified ladino and 6 to ½ pounds of Virginia-grown or domestic orchard grass.

Where orchard grass is not adapted, use 6 to 12 pounds of certified Kentucky 21 or alta fescue instead of orchard grass. For higher yields and more flexible use, 3 pounds of red clover, or 5 to 8 pounds of alfalfa can be added to the mixture. Always inoculate legume seed immediately before seeding.

Be sure you apply the correct amount of lime and fertilizer. Leaflet 40, "Here's How To Seed That Pasture," will give valuable tips. Ask your county agent, or write the Agricultural Extension Service, Blacksburg, Va., for a free copy.

FEED - GRAIN PRODUCTION PROGRAM

Farmers in Appomattox County who may be interested in a possible feed grain production adjustment program in 1961 are urged to call at the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office, according to W. D. Hix, III, Chairman of the ASC county committee. The request is made to farmers at this time because farm feed grain and other crop acreage information will be needed for any feed grain program that may be authorized for the coming crop season.

Farmers who supply feed grain and other acreage figures at this time will not be obligated to participate in a feed grain program if one becomes available but will be eligible to participate. However, Mr. Hix points out that a program can be quickly put into operation if the necessary farm acreage information is on file at the county office. He asks farmers' cooperation in providing information that will be needed before a program can be put into effect.

Interested farmers are asked to bring to the county ASC office their records of the acreage of cropland used for field corn, grain sorghums, oats, barley, and other crops for the two crop years of 1959 and 1960. The report should be on the basis of the acreage planted and the use made of the crop produced. Accurate information must be obtained immediately for possible establishment of farm feed grain base acreages.

Since Appomattox County is classed as a minor feed grain producing area, only interested farmers are being asked to make reports. In counties classed as major feed producing areas, acreage reports are being obtained for all farms.

SURVEY SHOWS PARTY TRAVEL POPULAR

NORFOLK, VA. Ferries are more popular than ever among northbound motorists.

A new survey of southbound motorists on the New Jersey Turnpike showed that the most important factor among those who travel on the Ocean Hiway is the ferry trip between Kiptopeke (Cape Charles) and Little Creek (Norfolk).

By a three-to-one margin, the motorists who said they planned to drive on the Ocean Hiway chose the route because of the bay crossing on the Little Creek Ferries. The next three reason given most often were "more scenic", "shorter", and "habit."

Other motorists who planned to travel on the ferries said they preferred this route because the ferry crossing gives them a "break away from the wheel." Some said they enjoyed walking on the open decks and watching the Navy and merchant ships in the bay.

The survey was conducted at Howard Johnson restaurant approximately 30 miles south of New York City. Eighty per cent of those interviewed were traveling to Florida, 10 per cent to South Carolina and the rest to Georgia and Alabama.

Seven 1200-passenger ships operate between Kiptopeke, at the southern tip of Virginia's Eastern Shore, and Little Creek, near Norfolk. The ferry route crosses Chesapeake Bay and is the water link of the Ocean Hiway (U. S. 13-17). More passengers and vehicles were carried on the ferries in 1960 than in any other year.

A brochure illustrating the crossing and a northbound map may be obtained by writing Little Creek Ferries, Inc., P. O. Box 120, Norfolk, Va.
